

Marine Driver Said Responsible for Accident

Coroner Delivers Decision

Coroner Ben White ruled yesterday that a 19-year-old Marine was "fully responsible" for a head-on collision that claimed the lives of the Marine and three other youths here Saturday.

White said he based his ruling on testimony that Marine Pvt. Leo Gomez, of Albuquerque, was under the influence of alcohol, and was driving at an "excessive rate of speed" on the wrong side of the road.

THE TESTIMONY came from Police Sgt. T. M. Aitken in an informal coroner's hearing at Wiefels and Son Mortuary yesterday afternoon.

Aitken said that blood tests of the young Marine, who was based at Twentynine Palms, showed an alcohol content of .16. An alcohol content of .15 is the minimum required by law for proof of intoxication.

STATEMENTS OF eye witnesses, introduced by Aitken, said that Gomez was driving south at speeds of 65 to 75 miles an hour when he smashed head-on into a northbound sports car driven by Robert Joselyn, 19, of Artesia.

Joselyn and his passenger, 17-year-old Karen Ruth Johnson, of San Marino, were fatally injured, as was Dean Dawson, also of the Twentynine Palms Base, who was riding in the Gomez car.

The crash occurred on Highway 141, just north of the city gates and about 234 feet south of the divided highway.

ONE WITNESS, Morty Housman, of Los Angeles, told Aitken that the Marine's sedan passed him on the left, coming "out of nowhere at a high rate of speed" as Housman drove off the divided section onto the two-lane pavement.

Housman said Gomez apparently tried to pull his bouncing car back into the right lane but he "didn't have control" of the careening auto, Aitken related, and the cars collided with "a terrific sound."

Philip Rickert, 21, of Downey, testified that he was following his friend, Joselyn, in a second car when he saw the sedan start onto the highway in front of Joselyn. The cars hit with "a terrific, explosive crash," Rickert said, adding: "Joselyn didn't have a chance to turn off the road."

County Planning Commission Approval Of Drivein May Bring Annexation Fight

State Water Bill Expected To Be Passed

Assembly Water Committee Gives 11 to 9 Approval

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's water program rolled toward final passage today in the Legislature.

The $1,750,000,000 bill cleared the Assembly Water Committee Tuesday on an 11-9 vote, and administration leaders in the lower house jubilantly predicted it was on its way to the governor's desk for his certain signature.

THE MEASURE already has passed the Senate, 25-12. If it is not changed in the Assembly, it does not have to go back to the northern-dominated Senate for ratification of Assembly amendments.

Further evidence that the governor's program is headed toward ultimate adoption was a 54-26 vote on the floor of the Assembly to suspend the rules and permit the Ways and Means Committee to hold a hearing on the water bill Thursday.

ADMINISTRATION supporters said the floor vote was a key test in determining whether the governor's program is on its way to final passage and an end to a five-year stalemate between North and South over a water program.

The bill, SB1106 by Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) is aimed at putting the state in the water business and transporting surplus northern water to the dry southern areas of the state.

Playhouse, Council Meet Is Postponed

Discussion Set Now for Council Informal Session

An on-again, off-again meeting of the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild and City Council members — hastily called in the wake of the announcement that Mike and Mariann Ferrall would not produce the 1960 Playhouse season — has been postponed until Monday.

Mrs. Ethel Luccarelli had been scheduled to appear before councilman informally at 10:30 a.m. yesterday but the session was postponed until 1 p.m. At 1 p.m., it was learned, the Guild chairman decided to appear at Monday's informal luncheon of the council.

THE FERRALLS, meanwhile, agreed today that Guild "has every right" to contract with whom they choose. But the couple declared that they have invested approximately $12,000 to equip the Playhouse property on Sunrise Way.

"At the end of last season — after depreciation — we lost $6,700," Ferrall said. "At the end of this season we lost $2,000."

"We are registered as a profit-making corporation, while the Guild is not. They made a $10,000 profit this season."

THE GREY-HAIRED producer said that neither he nor his wife were given the opportunity of protecting their investment with an appearance before the Guild's board.

TOP PHYSICAL THERAPIST ACCEPTS POST AS JUDGE

The physical therapist who conditioned such famous women as Joan Crawford, Betty Hutton, Rosalind Russell and Joan Bennett today was named as one of seven judges who will select Miss Palm Springs in the Chi Chi at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday.

She is Dr. Anne-Marie Benstrom, director of The Golden Door at Escondido and regarded as one of the leading exponents of feminine beauty culture in the world today.

Dr. Benstrom, a onetime star athlete — track, gymnastics, skiing, boating and fencing — in her Swedish habitat, came to America in 1951 and has since compiled an impressive record in the field of figure control and physical therapy.

Miss Palm Springs will be selected from a group of attractive desert area girls — 18 years of age or over — in the Chi Chi on Tuesday night. She will win a lengthy list of prizes and will become eligible for both the Miss USA and Miss Universe beauty pageants.

Entries are still being accepted in the offices of the Desert Sun in the Center here.

City Council Divided On Strebe Theater

An all out battle looms today in Palm Springs City Council, following the Riverside County Planning Commission's approval yesterday of a drivein theater at Palm Springs east city limits.

During the discussion at Monday's session of the council at the Chi Chi, Councilman Leonard Wolf said that he would fight the annexation of Section 20 to the city, if the County Planning Commission approved the drivein plans.

COUNCILMAN GEORGE Beebe told other councilmen at the meeting that he could "not understand how the Palm Springs Planning Commission could vote a favorable recommendation for the drivein in light of the laws Palm Springs has against them."

The local council had planned to take action on June 24 to annex part of Section 29 and all of Section 20 into the city limits.

THE RIVERSIDE County Planning Commission yesterday afternoon approved two new drivein theaters, the one proposed by Earle Strebe, to be located on Crosey Road just off Ramon, and another proposed for the North Palm Springs area.

Opposition was voiced against Strebe's application, but Bill Flint, associate planning director, reported today that letters, either pro or con, were not read to the commission. "We have been told by the county counsel," said Flint, "that correspondence is not important."

WALTER BOLIZ, developer of the California Dream Homes, said that his area was "vehemently opposed to it," and local attorney Robert Schlesinger, representing three other major property owners in the area, told the commission that the theater was "out of harmony with the smooth contour of the desert," and claimed it would create "noise and in some cases juvenile problems."

In a telegram to the commission from members of the council, both Wolf and Beebe were against the action; Councilmen John Wood and Ted McKimney in favor; Councilwoman Mary Carlin, undecided; and Councilwoman Ruth Hardy and Mayor Frank Bogert not available for comment.

THE COMMISSION, on June 30, will draft specific conditions on both the driveins for approval.

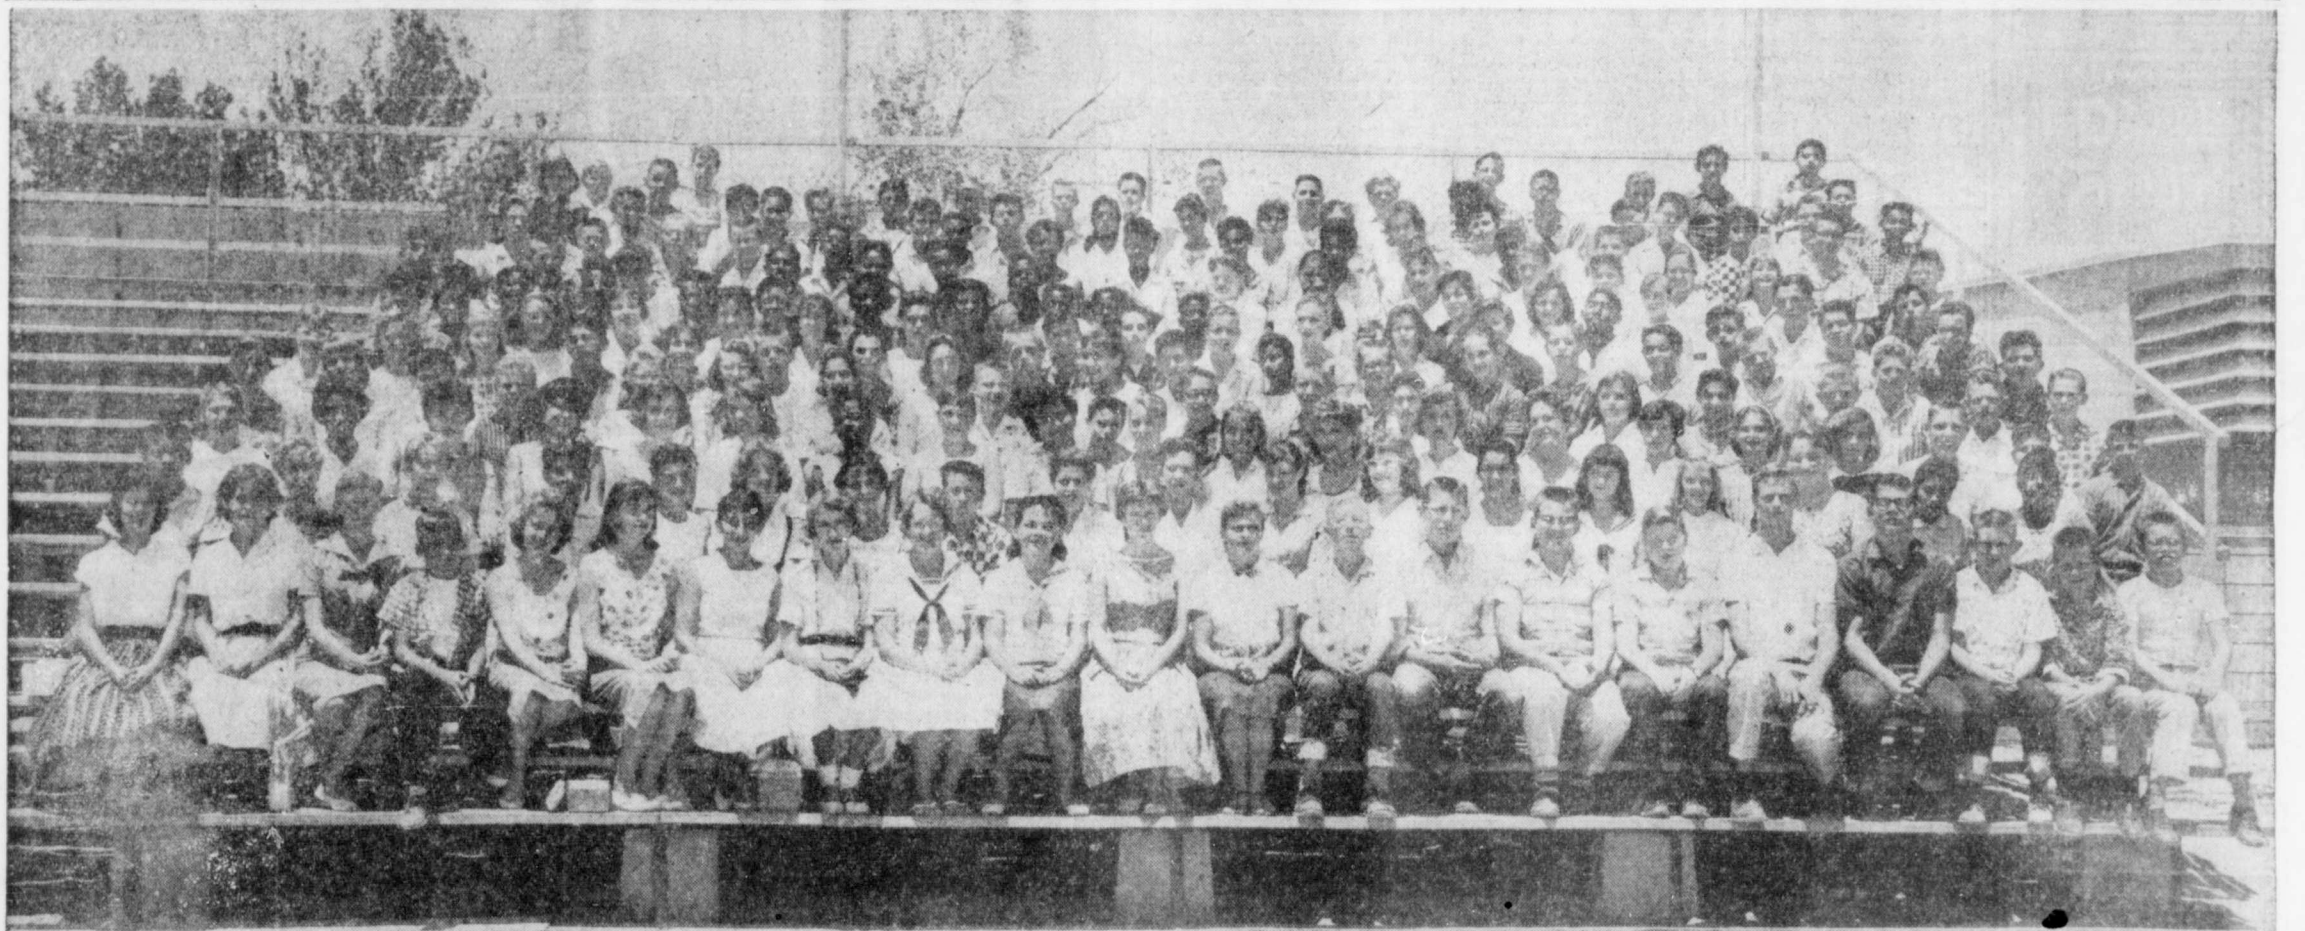

The North Palm Springs drivein was unopposed, and instead was backed heavily by some 160 persons favoring the theater.

It is believed that opponents to the Palm Springs theater will appeal the commission's decision before the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

The rally was called by the Marin County lawmaker to kick off a campaign to qualify an initiative for next year's ballot. The initiative measure would regulate the placing of billboards along state highways.

New State Law

Secret Meetings Cut Down Again

By JERRY REYNOLDS
United Press International
SACRAMENTO — (UPI) — A new law to cut down the number of secret meetings by local government bodies is now on the books.
Now Assembly Speaker Ralph Brown (D - Modesto) is training his attention on a different type of secret meeting—the "social meetings" held during luncheons and cocktail parties.
BROWN SAID HE had not found a way to do away with the social-type meetings and that perhaps no one ever could.
But one type of secret meeting, the executive session, held without notice to the public, was eliminated in the new law.
Brown, who has battled in the Legislature for years to do away with secrecy in government, accomplished his latest victory over secret meetings in a quiet way.

HE DID IT IN a simple six-word amendment to another bill on the same subject. The bill was signed into law May 27 by the governor.
Brown explained that his original 1953 act against secrecy in government required that all regular or special meetings of local governing bodies must be preceded by suitable notice. The only exception was that executive meetings called to discuss personnel problems could be closed to the public.

GOVERNING BODIES in some counties made a loophole out of this, Brown said. He said they would hold executive meetings without notice and take up subjects other than personnel problems.

In a letter to the governor before the signing of the bill, Brown said, "This (amendment) is necessary in order to insure that there is no confusion as to the time a legislative body can hold an executive session."

"IT HAS BEEN claimed by some that an executive session was neither a special nor regular meeting and therefore did not require notice."

"Years ago when this act was passed, it was my intention that an executive session could only be held during either a special or regular meeting," Brown added. "There was no doubt about it at that time and there is no doubt about it now."

Brown's amendment says only that executive sessions may be held only "during a regular or special meeting."

President Asks Doctors to Help Fight Inflation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (UPI) — President Eisenhower has asked the nation's doctors to help fight inflation by charging fees that their patients can "reasonably pay."

Uncontrolled inflation, he said Tuesday night, inevitably would force Americans in mass volume to turn to the government primarily for medical assistance and this would cause the nation "great loss."

EISENHOWER SPOKE at the American Medical Ass'n. annual convention here. He flew back to Washington immediately after his address.

The President offered nothing to differ with the AMA's basic opposition to compulsory government-controlled medicine. But he coupled the threat of such compulsion to possible run-away inflation in which "all prices would go out of sight and everybody would go broke."

"THE MEDICAL profession, as much as any other, has vital interest in preventing inflation," Eisenhower said. "Certainly it wants to provide its services for a fee within range of that people can reasonably pay."

He continued:
"If the time ever comes when large numbers of our citizens turn primarily to the government for assistance in what ought to remain a private arrangement between doctor and patient, then we shall all have suffered a great loss."

More car than this Impala Sport Coupe is hard to find at any price.

clings to curves like a cat on a carpet!
the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wide stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense!

Mobile Homes

By AL NEHL

Blue Skies

Blue Skies Trailer Village will soon be the scene of considerable activity as plans are now completed for the addition of 80 ultra de luxe spaces. Building will run through the summer and into the fall.

Rex Thompson, author of "Characters on Wheels" and manager of Blue Skies, has just been presented with a new Airstream trailer by the Airstream Company and will initiate it by pulling it to Ventura Friday. Thompson will be guest speaker at the combination Rotary-Kiwanis dinner in Ventura that night. This dinner will signal the opening of Victorian park, a new deluxe mobile home project.

Indian Wells

Every one of the 66 modern spaces will be spruced up during the summer improvement and renovation now under way at Indian Wells Trailer Park. Streets will be widened and paved, all electrical wiring will be placed underground, considerable planting, grading, and general improvements are planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Brown are leaving soon for Glendive, Mont., for a visit with Brown's grandmother. Once their visiting is done they plan to spend the rest of the summer catching up on their fishing. Their trip will take them through Reno, Salt Lake City, Idaho Falls and Butte on the way to Glendive and through western Montana, Handle, Idaho, the state of Washington and down to Portland where they will take in the Oregon Centennial celebration. From there they plan to return to the park by the way of Highway 101 along the Oregon and California coasts.

CHERRY FESTIVAL PLANS ANNOUNCED

BEAUMONT — Expansive plans for the annual four-day Cherry Festival have been completed for June 18 - 21, starting with the crowning of the Cherry Queen, through a parade headed by Grand Marshal George Putnam, and ending with a gigantic rodeo at the Beaumont fairgrounds.

Palm Springs Mayor Frank Bogert has accepted the role as master of ceremonies at the rodeo, and Supervisor Paul Anderson will be keynote speaker at a combined meeting of the County Chambers of Commerce at the Fireside Inn on Friday.

THE CHERRY QUEEN will be crowned in ceremonies at the Festival Grounds Thursday evening, in Stewart Park. There will be dancing Friday and Saturday for teenagers. A carnival will add brilliance to the festive atmosphere.

On Saturday the community will hold a gigantic parade, at which George Putnam will ride his station "Sunny Dell." Also scheduled for the parade will be George Ryan, Putnam's partner.

THE RODEO WILL be headlined by many members of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, under whose auspices it will be held.

Chemical in Celery
DETROIT (UPI) — A chemical compound in "suntan pills" is also found in small amounts in celery, reports Dr. Francis P. Rhoades, of Detroit. The chemical is known as 8-methoxypsoralen. It augments the normal sun-tanning process and helps protect against accidental or negligent overexposure.

park making many improvements in anticipation of a larger and busier season next winter. New sidewalks are being put in and floodlights are being installed around the pool. Three more cactus gardens are being added and many other projects are under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Bohrer left the park with their new 21 foot Jewell travel trailer a few days ago bound for New York via Highway 67 to Chicago and then east to New York. The trailer will be parked there for the summer while the Bohrsers visit Germany and other European countries. On their return to New York they plan to explore the eastern seaboard, visit Florida and return through the Mexican border states to Vista Dunes.

Palm Valley

The pool is lively all day with first one group and then another enjoying a swim. The ladies now take a swim before doing their laundry — then, in cool wet suits, just finish up the chore like a breeze.

The Anthony Dunphy family were here for two weeks and all the children in the park gathered around their trailer and then another. The William Archers, with son Gregory, moved in with their 47-foot trailer. The Bill Biens and family came in for the summer with their 40-foot "dream home." The Harry Sims, who own and operate the wayside fruit stand across the highway, have brought their trailer into a nice shady spot in the park.

Virgil and Helen Smith have come in to spend a month here before heading toward Washington. Pat Fanning, who has two trailers — one here and one at Laguna Beach — is still here enjoying the sunshine and says she's not about to leave until it warms up at the beach.

Latest word from the John Kunkels, who are spending the summer in Alaska, is that all kinds of wild game abound there including moose, porcupine and bears. The weather? It's cold, says Frances.

JAYNE SAYS SHE'S NOT TO BLAME IF FIGURE POPULAR

LAS VEGAS — (UPI) — Bosomy Jayne Mansfield says it's not her fault if the nation's youth knows more about her statistics than a second Commandment.

"I can't help it if I'm on their minds," she said. "It's a free country and a free world and I'm flattered that the youth of the world is thinking about me."

Miss Mansfield was replying to criticism made in London Monday by evangelist Billy Graham who said the present generation knows more about her statistics than the commandment "which orders that thou shalt not make unto thee any image..."

"As far as physical attributes and sex are concerned, one can't help it if one is given by nature and God a certain physical stature and being," said the blonde. "And, I don't want to change mine."

Mrs. Carl M. Jackson (Desert Tent and Awning), accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Robert Runge, and friend, Mrs. Dean Dorsey, left Tuesday for Fresno. Mrs. Runge and Mrs. Dorsey, who make their homes in Fresno, were houseguests of the Jacksons since last Thursday. On Wednesday, June 10, Mrs. Jackson will join in celebrating the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Mamie Bush. Before returning to the desert in about ten days Mrs. Jackson will attend the graduation from Campbell High School, near San Jose, of her niece, Miss Marjorie Bush.

Karen is a student at Palm Springs High School. The Duxburys plans on returning Sept. 15. Mr. Duxbury, who works at the Bill Schwartz Barber Shop, operates his own shop at Lake Tahoe every summer.

JUST ROOM FOR TWO in this crowded hummingbird nest, which seems to be almost overflowing. Almost ready to take wing, the fledglings are crammed into a tiny, well-hidden nest in a tree near the Ramon Trailer Park home of Mrs. Leda Dunlap. Mama Hummingbird wasn't around when this photo was snapped, but park residents say she's shy of humans—she only seems to come back to the nest when it's feeding time for the youngsters. But these little hummers hardly flinched a feather for curious humanity, although they appear to cast wary eyes at the camera. (Desert Sun Photo)

GRADUATION TO BE CLOSED TO PUBLIC

School officials today announced that graduation ceremonies at Palm Springs High School Thursday night will not be open to the general public.

Dr. Charles Webster, high school principal, said attendance will be limited to relatives and graduates because of the "limited capacity" of the high school auditorium.

WEBSTER SAID that 181 high school seniors will receive diplomas in ceremonies starting at 7:30 p. m., Thursday. Relatives of the graduating class are expected to fill the auditorium.

THIS IS THE FIRST time that graduation exercises will have been held in the comparatively new auditorium.

Outdoor graduation exercises will be conducted Wednesday night for Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School.

Principal Warren Linville said the program, scheduled for the junior high patio at the cafeteria, is open to the public.

Guard Program Launched in State

Village youths aged 17 to 18½—who have not had military service—will be able to receive deferment from Selective Service by enlisting in the California Army National Guard under a new program instituted this month.

Maj. Gen. Earle M. Jones, state adjutant general, said this week that the guard will take men with prior military service and will also seek enlistments among 17-18½ year old youths.

Dodgers Win; Orioles Grab First Place

3-Run Bunt Single Gives Baltimore Win Over Cleveland

United Press International
Shades of John McGraw and the other fabled old Orioles, but did you see how the modern Orioles stormed into first place on a three-run bunt?

Willie Keeler himself never laid down a more productive bunt and old Wilbert (Uncle Robbie) Robinson would have approved the way Willie Tasby just kept on running while the Cleveland Indians were throwing the ball where their teammates weren't.

It all happened in the fifth inning Tuesday night when the fabulous bunt led to a 7-3 victory and sent the Orioles soaring into a tie with the Chicago White Sox for the American League lead — the first time in the modern history of the club it has occupied or shared the top rung.

Of course, a couple of "rabbit-ball" homers by Gene Woodling and Chico Carrasquel did help out but the bit moment for the second largest crowd in Baltimore's baseball history came when Paul Richards told Tasby to bunt with none out, two runners on via walks and the Indians leading, 3-2, in the fifth inning.

The Washington Senators gave the Orioles an assist when they topped the White Sox, 7-4, the New York Yankees reached the first division for the first time since April 25 with a 13-inning, 9-8 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and the Boston Red Sox ended the Detroit Tigers' four-game winning streak, 5-2, in other American League games.

The San Francisco Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2, and moved within two games of the National League lead when the St. Louis Cardinals routed the first-place Milwaukee Braves, 12-3. The Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati, 8-4.

'MANASSA MAULER' SET FOR PRAEKNESS NEXT SATURDAY

NEW YORK UPI — The supplementary entry of Manassa Mauler made it likely today that a field of five would go in next Saturday's running of the $125,000 Belmont Stakes—third jewel of racing's Triple Crown.

Owner Emil Dolce paid a $5,000 supplementary fee to make Manassa Mauler eligible but the horse is given only an outside chance to win the 91st running of the Stakes.

Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer and Mrs. Halina Braunstein's Royal Orbit are current co-favorites with King Ranch's Black Hills rated a strong contender. Howard B. Keck's Bagdad also is expected to start.

Strongest Field Of Amateurs Set For Open Play

MAMARONECK, N. Y. UPI — The strongest amateur contingent in 26 years challenged the field for the 59th U.S. Open championship today, but the betting was that none of them would make it.

Only five amateurs in the long history of the tournament ever have made it—the last one in 1933 when Johnny Goodman won at Omaha.

THIS TIME, 26 OF them, led by U.S. amateur champion Charley Coe, the thin man from Oklahoma and British Amateur king Deane Beman, the collegiate golfing whiz from the University of Maryland, are competing against 124 professionals. Percentage-wise it is the largest amateur representation the Open ever has seen.

"But it won't do them any good," said defending champion Tommy Bolt. "They just don't seem to be good enough."

DESPITE THE OPINION of Bolt and most other pros, Harvie Ward, a two-time winner of the Simon-Pure title competing in his seventh Open, maintained that "this is the best chance we ever have had."

Coe was listed as a 25-1 shot along with such pros as Bo Wininger, Bob Goalby, Don Whit, Walter Burkemo, Claude Harmon, Tommy Jacobs and a host of others who have won some of the major pro golf titles.

WARD WAS LISTED at 30 - 1, and in that company were such as former U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck, former PGA titleholder Chick Harbert and others.

"At least, they are in select company," commented young Jack Nicklaus, a U. S. Walker Cupper who insisted "a lot of us have a chance."

Nicklaus, now 21 and competing in his third Open, said he "liked" the famed West course of the Winged Foot Golf Club where the Open will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

IN HIS FIRST practice round, the blond Nicklaus carded a 69, including a four-under-par 31 on the first round. In his second shot at it, he had a 70, with 33 going out.

"I guess they always sell us short because our record hasn't been too good," Nicklaus added. "Well, maybe we can show them a thing or two."

The only amateurs who ever have won the Open have been Jerry Travis, Chick Evans, Bobby Jones (who won it four times), Francis Ouimet and Goodman.

Village CVCA Pony Leaguers Down La Quinta

The Coachella Valley Contractors Association of Palm Springs entry in the CV Pony League race won their first game Monday when they defeated La Quinta Sparks, 3-2, on the losers field.

Loren Bradley drew credit for the win, limiting the La Quinta batsmen to two hits while his mates were gathering nine bingles.

The CVCA team and the Palm Springs Giants were both scheduled to play tonight but their games have been cancelled due to graduation at Nellie Coffman Junior High School.

13-Hit Attack Moves CVSL Into Fourth

Mexican Colony Meets Builder Supply In Polo Grounds Test

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan moved strongly back into contention in the Desert Softball League with a solid 12-2 win over the Desert Sun-Chi Chi entry last night at the Polo Grounds.

The CVSL team gets another chance at moving up in the softball standings tonight as it faces the league-leading Billmore Hotel in the second half of a double header tonight. Mexican Colony, tied with the Billmores for first, will meet Palm Springs Builders Supply in the first half of the twin bill.

PAUL NEILSON threw a five-hit game at the Chi-Sun team, allowing only one hit through the first four frames. He was tough with batters when he had to be and had support when it counted as six Chi-Sun base runners were left stranded.

The CVSL started with a rush, pounding Chi-Sun hurler Wes Walton for nine "hits" and six runs in the first inning. Walton surrendered down after that frame and gave up four runs in the third and two in the fourth.

Dave Hamilton had a triple and a double for the CVSL, and Tom Every had a perfect night at the plate, drawing three hits in three trips.

TWO HOME RUNS saved the Chi-Sun from a shutout but neither came with runners on base.

Wes Walton hit the first one in the third inning, a drive into deep right that just kept going. Chi-Sun third baseman Jim Schilling laced a drive down the right field line that had three bases written on it but the ball took a skid into foul territory and by the time the CVSL outfielders could locate the ball, Schilling was romping across home plate.

Line score:

CV Savings & Loan	6-0	200-0	-12	13
Desert Sun-Chi Chi	0-1	001-001	0-2	5
Neilson and Burgess	Walton and Laine

L.A. Grand Jury Sets Quiz on Boxing 'Rackets'

LOS ANGELES — UPI — The county Grand Jury will open hearings June 23 into possible gangland infiltration of boxing in Southern California.

Star witness at the probe is expected to be Hollywood Legion Stadium promoter Jackie Leonard, 42, who was brutally beaten by attackers outside his Northridge home two weeks after he testified before the state Athletic Commission.

Leonard, in his testimony, said that mobsters sought control of some California prizefighters. The fight promoter was to be released today from Parkview Hospital.

A similar probe by the Athletic Commission opened today in San Francisco.

Ingemar Beats Floyd Before Fight

NEW YORK — UPI — Ingemar Johansson, the happy Swede, claimed a double victory today as he and Floyd Patterson headed down the home stretch toward their big fight, June 25, with all obstacles removed.

Challenger Johansson, back in camp at Grossinger, N. Y., not only kayoed contender Eddie Machen in federal court Tuesday, but he claimed, "I think I win the first round over Patterson."

Ingemar claimed a psychological victory over champion Patterson during the official signing of contracts at headquarters of the New York State Athletic Commission.

And Johansson's triumph over contender Machen of Redding, Calif., was completed Tuesday when Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman denied Machen's injunction application to force Johansson to fight him in a return match before any bout with Patterson.

LAST SEPT. 14 Johansson knocked out Machen in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, Ingemar's home town. But on the day before the fight, Sid Slaherty — Machen's manager — obtained a return-bout agreement from Edwin Ahlqvist, Johansson's "advisor." The tentative date for the return match was last Feb. 14, at the Chicago Stadium.

Without ruling upon the validity of the agreement, Judge Kaufman said that if the agreement was intended to extend beyond Feb. 14, "the agreement is unreasonable."

THE JUDGE ADDED that Machen had "failed to show sufficient grounds that would warrant the relief sought." Also, the granting of an injunction would "hurt the defendant and punish him and be of slight benefit to the plaintiff."

Honor Ruth Hardy

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Mrs. Ruth Herdich Hardy, owner and manager of Palm Springs' Ingle-side Inn, is one of four 1959 recipients of the highest alumni awards of her alma mater, Indiana University.

The Palm Springs hotel owner, who was graduated from the Hoosier State University in 1915, was presented the University's Distinguished Alumni Service Award this past weekend (June 7) at one of the featured ceremonies of the 130th annual commencement.

The citation of President Herman B. Wells of the University in presenting Mrs. Hardy with the award was as follows:

"Daughter of Indiana and now gracious lady of the western desert; from small beginnings, fortified with rare courage and wisdom, she has built in the arid wilderness a retreat from a world of tension where a myriad of her friends may renew body, mind, and spirit; herself the embodiment of happiness, she bestows her store of spiritual gifts with a prodigal hand; no stranger to adversity, she has, with calm competence and high confidence, built a career upon the shattered obstacles which would have defeated many of lesser spirit; constant and devoted friend of her alma mater.

Gorhams and Wests Host Party

Vacation time is fast approaching for many Villagers and before they scatter in all directions, Dotie and Jack Gorham co-hosted a party with Hazel and Harold West, Saturday evening, at the Gorham home on Mesquite Avenue.

The party served a dual purpose as it gave Mrs. Gorham a chance to show off her newly-decorated home, and gave those present an opportunity to congratulate Harold West who has been appointed vice president of Bank of America.

Champagne was served along with a delectable buffet dinner, and there was dancing to stereophonic music.

Guests included Messrs. and Mrs. Sherman Hull, Cub Parker, Jimmy Cooper, Elly Windhurst, Bob Kessler, John Seemans, Joe Henderson, Earl Hough, Tom Kiley, Boo Hoff.

Also George Beebe Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. Les Meisenheimer of Pacific Palisades, Mrs. Gorham's sister and brother-in-law.

Mousie and Bill Powell entertained at their Vereda Norte home Saturday night... when they gave a farewell party for artist John Morris... who was leaving Monday for the summer... Santos catered a sit-down dinner served at poolside tables... and featuring crab legs in halved avocados, breast of chicken on ham, fresh fruit and melted ice cream... Each guest was given a table number and found his or her place by the appropriateness of a gag gift... The host found a cat with a mouse in his mouth at his place... and the guest of honor had a mechanical toy that was a clown and a mouse dancing... For Charlie Farrell there was a TV Guide with Gale Storm's picture on the cover... and for Virginia a match box with world map and suitcase (plus a going away gift of a camera)...

Jean Susalla found tepee-shaped salts at her place and Eddie found a golf ball opener... Harry Joe Brown's was a cowboy and Dorothy Gray's a doll's slack suit on a hanger... For banker Clark Bramwell there were stock market reports (Frans in the east)... Alice Faye Harris (Phils out of town) a match box with miniature records on it... They were great conversation pieces... Other guests included the Sam Briskins, Kay Karahadians, Malcolm Clarkes... John Kenastons, Joe Jacksons, Bob Howards, Tom Mays... George Ripley, Milton Prells, Joe Halls, Bobbe Periberg (Bill's in Europe), Wanda Walker, Rose Mints...

Mousie, who hosted the fun party... went in to the Big Town Monday... to play in yesterday's golf tournament at Lakeside Country Club...

Anne Randolph has taken a house for the summer... close to the Capistrano Beachcomber's Club...

The Joel Stones and daughter Sally leave San Francisco... sailing on Pacific Far East liner the Golden Bear for a Pacific cruise... They will be in Hong Kong for eight days... three weeks in Japan... and be home by September 10th...

Other interesting news from the Stone family is that Maxine's mother Mrs. Harry Clatsworthy has rented an apartment here for next winter... and expects to be here next fall... Maybelle Ostberg of the Community Church Play School, and Mel Stafford of Tramway Inn, hadn't planned to get married until later this month... but when Play School closed they decided there was no reason to postpone the nuptials... and drove over to Riverside where they were married by Rev. Charles French in the Riverside Calvary Presbyterian Church on June 4 at 4:15 p.m.

They spent a few days up at Arrowhead... and are living at Tramway Inn until they can make summer management arrangements... when they will go to Texas and New York on business...

When Grace (Mrs. Tony) Cosentino was still in the hospital following major surgery... news came of the death of her father... She flew back to Chicago for his funeral and brought her mother Mrs. Thomas Anselmo back with her...

OFF TO HAWAII for the summer are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart who sailed Monday on the Lurline. She is manager of Holiday House and he is with Tanner Motor. (Desert Sun Photo)

Lurline Is Cloud Number Nine As Stewarts "Sail for Hawaii"

Cloud Number Nine and the Lurline are what the Howard Stewarts of Palm Springs are sailing on to Honolulu. After planning this trip for almost 20 years, it was a dream come true when they left from Long Beach Harbor Monday to spend the summer in the islands.

Prior to their departure, the Stewarts were feted at several bon voyage parties, among them one at the Ranch Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Edwards who is president of American Pipe, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Kelly (he is with United States Steel), and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brainerd (executive vice president of American Pipe), all of San Marino.

A globe of the world with Cloud Number Nine (made of angel hair) floating above it, and make-believe ocean waves surrounded the base making an attractive centerpiece for the dinner table, which attracted considerable attention from those around.

Riverside was a stopping off point enroute, where long time friends entertained at a cocktail party in their honor, and just before departure time, around 40 of their friends gathered in their stateroom aboard the Lurline for a final Bon Voyage.

Mrs. Stewart has just completed her fifth year as manager of Holiday House and Mr. Stewart is associated with Tanner Motor Service.

Bride-Elect Honored at Shower

White wedding bells and two doves holding ribbons bearing the gold legend of "Karen and Jim" forecast the wedding plans for Karen Harrison, who is to be the bride of James E. Decker of Los Angeles, at a bridal shower which Mrs. Lilley Parsonage and her daughter Patti gave for the bride-elect Saturday night. The party was given at the Parsonage home at 2980 Plaimor.

Centering the table, where sandwiches, cake and punch were served, was a beautiful little bride, surrounded by artistically placed bouquets of flowers. On each side of the bride were white candles circled with an engagement ring and a wedding ring. Gold-foil wedding rings were entwined around the napkins, and to complete the theme, three more white doves were suspended above the table.

Among those wishing Karen happiness were Leeann Howard, Rollin Miller, Linda Boyle, Mary Corcoran, Marsha Clarke, Lynn Gerhart, Cindy Hall, Linda Wester, Mary Lou Ruskin, Sandy Babcock, Bonnie Kolpacoff, Linda Williams, the bride-to-be's sister, Diane, her mother Mrs. W. W. Harrison, Mrs. Lilley Parsonage and Patti.

Toy Shop Theme For Party

The gaiety and color of a child's favorite "The Toy Shop," greeted Holly Wahlberg's School mates as they arrived to help celebrate her eighth birthday, Friday, at the Paseo de Anza home of her parents the JR Wahlbergs.

The Toy Shop theme was carried out not only with the dolls and animals which adorned the playroom, table and cake, but in such games as "Find the Mouse," "Hopscotch" and "Jacks." Following the games each guest was presented with a miniature note book set.

Among those enjoying the ice cream, cake, lemonade and lollipops were: Linda Linick, Tamara Jump, Beverly and Diane Muhlock, Kathleen Cate, Beverly Hart and the birthday girl's sister Heidi.

MVD Office Here Said Possible

City Council Asked To Adopt Resolution Asking State Action

Palm Springs need for an office of Department of Motor Vehicles was voiced this week by Administrative Assistant Dick DeLong, who asked the City Council to adopt a resolution at its meeting tonight.

The need became even more apparent last Thursday when some 30 area residents went to the Department of Motor Vehicle travel crew, which spends one day in the city a week, and obtained driver licenses, DeLong said.

IF AN OFFICE is approved for here, they will not only be able to issue driver licenses, but car registrations and license plates.

Determining factors in the acquisition of an MVD office here are that the city be not less than 30 miles from the nearest office, and that it serve a population of 20,000 persons.

A new office is currently being built in Banning, and the nearest offices are in Indio, Twenty-nine Palms and Lemet.

THE DEPARTMENT in mid-June files its requested budget for the 1960-61 fiscal year, and it is hoped that this office can be added to that budget.

When the Banning office is completed, the travel crew which comes to Palm Springs every Thursday from there will stop, and Palm Springs will be served from the Indio office crew.

"We think we meet the qualifications for a local office," said DeLong, "and we are asking for immediate action by the council to attempt to get one."

Toluca Lake Scouts Make Weekend Visit

A delegation of scouts from Explorer Post 20, Toluca Lake, made a desert excursion over the weekend, staying in the Philip Kibbee home on Calle Palo Fiero here.

The delegation included Kibbee's son Ralph, one of the post's advisers, and grandson Martin, a member of the post.

Other scouts on the excursion were Eric Bradley, Scott Fitzgerald, Bob Saman, Royal Evans and Clyde Horne, Jr. The advisers also included George Saman and Ben Evans.

A surprise guest on the weekend outing was Jack Miles, assistant superintendent of the Palm Springs Unified School District, who is also Boy Scout district commissioner for Palm Springs.

Your Car And The Law

"VERY INTERESTED PARENT"

Shortly before Mother's Day, 1959, a letter from a California mother who did not give her name reached Robert McCarthy, the "new Director of Motor Vehicles," as she called him.

Again, without giving the name of the apple of her eye, she wrote: "I have a son who has some tickets but so far not enough for suspension (of his driver's license) but several of his friends have had ten, fifteen, or somewhere around that figure, and are still driving... One had his license suspended for 30 days but continued to drive all that time and got away with it."

"WHAT HOPE HAVE parents who try to explain the gravity of ignoring laws and statements issued by the Motor Vehicle Department if they are not backed up? I realize my son may be caught by the very rules I am asking to be enforced, but I believe he should be that is the only way you will convince these young men you aren't just talking... I believe you will find all parents are for you 100 per cent." The letter was signed, "Very Interested Parent."

The open reply of the Director of Motor Vehicles to this letter reads in part:

"LET ME ASSURE you that we were not 'just talking' when we announced our determination to remove careless, negligent and irresponsible drivers from our public highways and streets. We are doing just that. We are suspending the licenses of people with bad driving records at the rate of some five thousand per month.

"A bad driving record, for the purpose of carrying out our new program, is one in which the driver has accumulated four moving violation points in the preceding year. Points are scored on the basis of the seriousness of the violation. For example, reckless driving, hit-and-run driving, to mention only two, count as two points. Most others count as one point.

"People who continue to drive after their licenses are suspended will have their driving privilege revoked.

"AND THIS SHOULD partially answer your question as to what could happen to those young friends of your son, who have had 'ten, fifteen' or more tickets, and 'are still driving.'"

"Any driver, young or old, who has that kind of driving record, is subject to severe penalties. Catching them is a matter for law enforcement agencies — the Highway Patrol, city police and sheriff's officers. The Department of Motor Vehicles does not make arrests for traffic law violations. Our statutory function is the issuance of licenses and regulation of license holders on the basis of their driving habits as reflected in abstracts of convictions which we receive from the courts. We in the Department of Motor Vehicles are doing our utmost, under existing authority, to reduce accidents by depriving repeater offending motorists of their driving privilege. "It is gratifying to know that parents like yourself are backing us in this Crusade."

Start of Model Units at Golf Course Planned

Construction will start "the first week of July" on the first model units of a 350-home development at Palm Springs Golf Course.

Start of the fairway home building program was announced today by Morton B. Ullman, president of Westview Development Corp. Ullman said that Westview has entered into a contract with the Wald Construction Co. of Los Angeles for construction of the 350 units.

THE FAIRWAY homes will cover Westview property surrounding the Palm Springs Golf Course presently leased to the city, Ullman said.

Wald Construction Co. is operated by Arthur H. Wald, prominent Beverly Hills, Westwood and Bel Air home builder, who is associated in the company with Herman Rosen, of Beverly Hills.

In addition to the building contract, Wald and Rosen have purchased stock in the Westview Corp., Ullman said, and are now corporation officers.

ULMAN ALSO reported that oilman Arthur Leonard, of Dallas, Texas, has been elected as a Westview officer. Formerly associated with Warner Brothers and Fox Movietone motion picture companies, Leonard will be living in Palm Springs.

The stock transaction for Wald and Rosen was negotiated by Neil Whitney, of the Whitney Investment Co. of Beverly Hills, and Sam Franks, of Franks Realty Co. here.

Franks and Whitney head the Westview homes' sales corporation and, along with Village Realtor George Gannon, they will handle all sales of the fairway homes, Ullman said.

African safaris are available this year which range in price from $1,996 to $2,999 for 24, 31 or 38 days.

CVSLA Offers Unique 'Old' Banks

Designed As Thrift Campaign

Some old-fashioned coin banks are putting in an appearance in Palm Springs in a new-fangled idea aimed at making Village youngsters more thrifty conscious.

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association today announced the launching of a "Tradition of American Thrift" campaign in which reproductions of coin banks of the last century are sold to thrifty youngsters.

THE BANKS ARE recreated in iron from authentic mechanical banks now owned by the Book of Knowledge collection. And some of them are more fun than spending money. Samples:

—A wise old owl who never tires of shoveling pennies, nickels, and dimes into a hollow log.

—A dentist who yanks a tooth from a victim every time he gets his "fee."

—A baseball game in which the batter—like the Casey in the poem—never hits the "ball" since it's the money enroute to the catcher and the bank.

—A KICKING COW who, on being "fed" with cash, kicks the boy milking her, upsets his stool, spills the milk and then swishes her tail about it all.

—A cannon which allowed American youngsters to "Remember the Maine" during Spanish American War days. The cannon fires a shell which rips off the mast of a Spanish battleship, forcing a coin into the bank.

THERE ARE OTHERS — all with the same Rube Goldberg

Union to Start Separate Talks

NEW YORK — UFW—The United Steelworkers Union said today it has gotten nowhere in joint contract talks with the steel industry. It announced it will begin bargaining separately with the 12 companies next Tuesday.

David J. McDonald, president of the union, accused the steel industry of "doing everything in its power to foment a work stoppage" this summer.

THE REPLICAS ARE so detailed, so painstakingly done, that he feels adults in the community will probably start grabbing them off to use as figurines and decorative pieces in homes with a colonial decor.

"I hope there'll be enough for the kids," he said.

Of the top 300 commercial banks in the nation, 23 are in New York City.

A coin placed on the monkey's paddle is deposited by him into the bank, as he politely tips his hat.

Is that all? No!

Maybe more so!

An Urgent Debate

FRANKFURT, Germany — Like a pair of peanuts within a single shell, but separated into different pods, the two nations amicably coexist—West Germany and the United States, in Germany.

Superficially, the two peoples, German and American, appear to be merged. One's first impression in landing at the Rhein-Main Air Base and moving into the air passenger's hotel is of American family life. In no other place, it is easy to believe have so many young mothers, mothers-to-be, engaging children and fine young fathers been brought together.

THESE ARE THE legions of the world conquerors, the missionaries of pure democracy, the diplomats of universal vigilance-for-peace. Since Germans, too, are family folk, fond of children, the makers of toys, fairy tales and music, it is natural assumption that the two nations are not only bound by top level friendships and treaties, but that the bond carries entirely through the national structures and that Germans and Americans-in-Germany are fraternally united.

There could not be a more false assumption. The person who comes here often, and gets away from the air terminals, soon finds that there is friendship and respect, but no intimacy and certainly no unity between the two peoples. The American military families and other long-staying travelers live in clans. They spend dollars, read the "Stars and Stripes," the Paris Herald Tribune, follow the big leagues and the comic strips, shop for bargains in antiques, and observe their own holidays and mores, quite apart from the natives.

THE GERMANS HAVE tolerated the Yanks, first as wardens and later as protectors, but they associate with the visitors only as necessity and convenience require. There is surprisingly little bilingualism on either side. And while there is, still more surprising, almost no racial clashing, the peace is kept by a seemingly unspoken agreement to go separate but non-conflicting ways.

All of this matters a great deal in the future of this new German Republic. One of the things that Germans have done alone is to wrestle in their souls with their old demon of militarism.

IN THE U. S. there is a tendency to think that we have made up the German mind, but this is hardly true. Neither is it true that Soviet Russia, by a great deal of trouble-making on the eastern border, has forced the German decision. While America and Russia could not help but exert pressure of contrasting sorts, this is a problem which the Germans have brooded upon and worked out largely by themselves.

As matters stand today, the Germans are far from single-minded on the subject. In the crucial election of 1957, the pro-Western (Christian Democrat) party got 270 seats in the parliament (Bundstag) while the neutralist (Social Democrat) party got 169. But this election and some prior ones were certainly influenced by the knowledge of being at the bargaining table. The West could and did offer West Germany her sovereignty in return for West German troops for NATO. It wasn't that bluntly stated, but it was that clearly understood by the contracting parties.

BUT THE GERMANS to this day appear to be struggling with the moral problem. There seems little doubt that they love the military life, and that's the trouble—they like it too much. Many of the "French" troops which fought for "freedom" in Southeast Asia were Germans.

As a race they gravitate to war like water runs down hill. But when it came to forming a post-war republic, the German leaders and people could not be unaware of what that propensity had cost them from 1850-1950 in their own blood and the world's hate. If they were going to re-arm, they were also going to rationalize the decision, give it a moral justification. And this is how they have done so:

ARMING FOR PEACE: "The Federal Republic of Germany has agreed to conduct its policy in accordance with the principles of the Charter of the United Nations." (Chancellor Adenauer.)

No More Aggression: "Germany undertakes never to have recourse to force..." (Adenauer.)

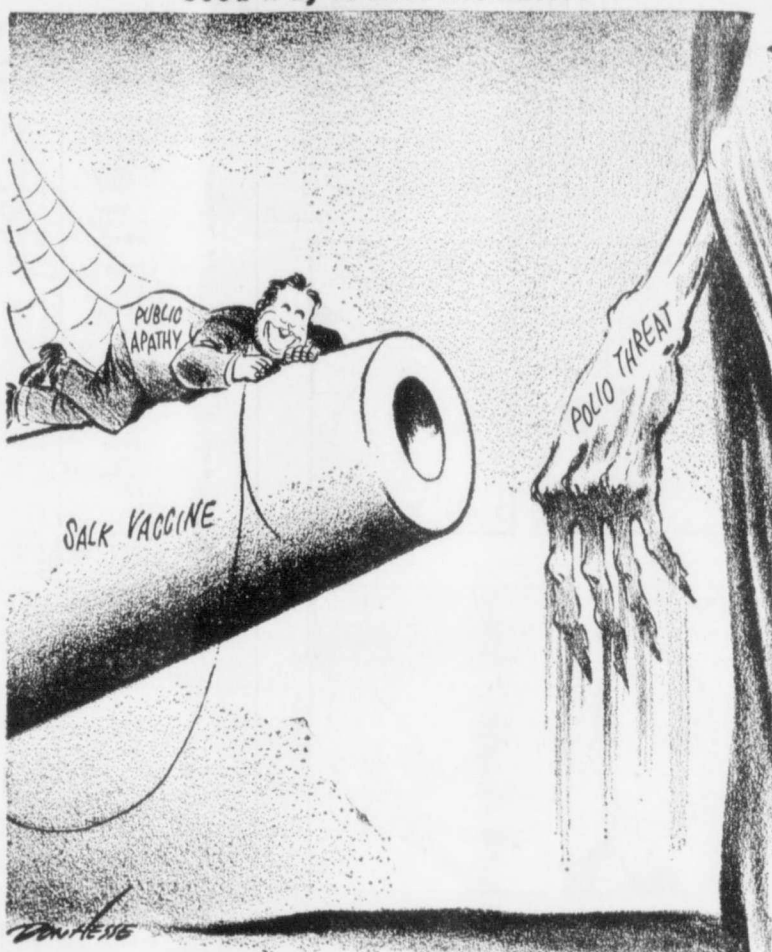

Name and Dress: The Army was no longer to be a Wehrmacht but a Bundeswehr, the difference between war-maker and peace-keeper. The snappy, booted, colorful uniform became drab and "democratic."

Soldier's Law: By complicated and even self-contradictory legislation, the German soldier is surrounded with safeguards against his officers. For instance, a German GI need not obey an order if compliance would constitute a criminal offense or "violate human dignity."

It is all very pious, and pretty impractical, with overtones of guilt, repentance and inner compulsion. But the Germans, although literally surrounded by Americans and Russians, under the scrutiny of world opinion, are working this thing out in their own way.

Good Way to Lose the Battle

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

Here I sit
In deep frustration,
Couldn't get
A reservation.

The best laid plans of mice and men, et cetera.
So it doesn't matter whether I'm a man or a mouse.

My plans have gone awry, as Mr. Robert Burns, the poet, not the cigar, would say.

A WEEK AGO today I had anticipated this would be a day of great hustle and bustle. The eve of my take off for points east and north via the singing rails.

Looking forward to rest and relaxation. Strolling between my Pullman bedroom, the diner and the lounge car.

Today all that is left is the bustle. King-size.

CONSULTED THE gentleman in the ticket office and between us we mapped out the trip to our mutual satisfaction.

He was happy because of the monetary bite he planned to sink into me. I was happy because of the above-listed constitutional between diner, bedroom and lounge.

Then Mrs. G called the agency for hotel reservations in Chicago. And disaster reared its ugly head.

SEEMS THAT JUNE is convention month in Chicago and hundreds of delegates to various gatherings swoop down on the city to occupy all of its hotels and whoop it up.

The girl in the agency said they just laughed at her when she called.

IN PREVIOUS YEARS I have stayed at Hinsdale at the Doctors home which is plenty big with lots of bedrooms.

But now there are four grandsons and while they would gladly make room for me, Mrs. G put her foot down.

"You can't take it any more," she said.
"Besides the four boys, they now also have two dogs."

MUCH AS I LOVE my daughter-in-law, I agreed that adding a slow-motion father-in-law to four fast-moving boys and two dogs would be a trifle too much.

Hence the quest for a hotel reservation.

I called the gentleman at the railroad office and told him not to throw away the notes on my trip. Our deep thinking was not in vain. I'd be back after June 30 when, it seems, the convention tumult dies down.

IN THE MEANTIME, I can make forays into Hollywood. That's frustrating, too.

I carefully follow the form sheets and risk just one cautious ticket per race. So far, I've made expenses.

But Mrs. G and Mrs. L, our hostess at Westchester, they buy four or five tickets a race and generally cash two. They buy the dinner and other necessities of life.

The following is the honest truth. I saw it happen.

They bought tickets on four horses in one race and cashed every one of them.

One won, one placed and there was a dead-heat for show involving the other two.

My choice ran out.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

"I am in desperate trouble and I don't know to turn to," she said on the telephone.

Well, that is my desperate child, all right. She has been in desperate straits as long as I can remember. About 15 going on 16 desperate years.

"I don't know who to turn to," she said desperately.

"DON'T TURN TO ME," I cried. "Turn to President Eisenhower. Or Uncle Walter Ramage who is a pigeon for your woes. The last time you turned to me, it got me in trouble."

"Daddy!" she said. The knife in the back.

"Oh, well," I said weakly. "What is it?"

Having gained this advantage, you could hear her voice settle down. She was winners and she knew it.

"WELL, YOU KNOW mother's Bermuda shorts?" The new linen ones?

"Well, it wasn't my fault. Honest. It was the waitress."

"What waitress?"

"The waitress in the restaurant. She spoke to me and I turned around."

"What about the Bermudas?"

"THAT'S WHAT I'M trying to tell you, if you'll just listen. You see, I didn't have ANYTHING to wear. And we wanted to go to this restaurant, you know? Just for a little snack in the afternoon."

"I thought you were on a diet?"

"I am. But—well, anyway. Will you listen? I'm in desperate trouble and I don't know WHO to turn to."

"You have already turned, my dear," I said. "So turn off the tears and drop the soap opera. Your loving father has saddled up the horses. And the cavalry is about to ride over the horizon."

"ANYWAY, IT WASN'T my fault," she said. "Only the fork slipped just a little."

"This is a history of your life," I said politely.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By LICHTY

"We have complaints about exorbitant fees, gentlemen! . . . That we're basing them on the standard of living of our patients instead of their ability to pay . . ."

EARL WILSON:

Battle of Barefoot Boulevard

NEW YORK — We tried to get Miss Lee Remick on our side in our great campaign against womenfolk trotting around the house barefooted.

Miss Remick, the very prim and pretty young star, had just returned from Ishpeming, Mich., bringing with her the very tight western pants she wore in the filming of "Anatomy of Murder."

"I would wear them in my apartment but not out on the streets in New York because they fit very well to begin with and when you get them too small as I did, they fit even better," Miss Remick carefully explained.

"They are my second skin, shall we say?"

When she said this we knew she could help us persuade our Barefoot Wife and our Gorgeous Mother-in-Law that they should be more modest around our little slum.

Why, once long ago when Debbie Reynolds visited us, she even got barefooted. Barefoot Boulevard, we call it.

Lee Remick wanted to talk about Joe Welch playing gin rummy with his wife Agnes while they were working, and how Kathy Grant found out she was going to have a baby, and told Louella, and then told Bing, but we kept talking about the tight pants that Lana Turner couldn't wear not because they were too tight but because they weren't glamorous enough . . . and so Lee got the part.

"You wouldn't wear slacks out on a date Saturday night like some girls in New York do, would you?" we asked Miss Remick sort of tentatively.

"Oh, no!" she exclaimed. "Just around the house. But do you know what I like to wear around the house?"

"No, what do you like to wear around the house?" we said eagerly.

"A long full skirt!" she said. "How sweet, how proper," we cried, thinking this would really bring our Barefoot Wife and our Gorgeous Mother-in-Law to their senses.

"That's what I like to wear," Lee Remick nodded. "That way I can kick my shoes off and run around barefooted and nobody knows the difference."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

CBS chairman William Paley's condition is good after surgery for an elevated diaphragm (No tumor, no biopsy necessary, just routine) . . . Sol Hurok would like to book Larry Adler with Leonard Bernstein and the Philharmonic.

EARL'S PEARLS:

In marriage no wife gets what she expected, and no husband expected what he's getting—Quote. TODAY'S BEST LAUGH:

Jack Herbert reports there is a tranquilizer pill to combat car sickness. You take it just before the car payment is due.

The average woman isn't as concerned about outer space as she is about closet space. That's Earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Mickey Rooney 'Short'

HOLLYWOOD — I asked Mickey Rooney how short he is. He replied, "Since my last divorce, about $400,000."

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People objected to Sam Goldwyn shooting "Porgy and Bess" because it caricatures their race. Goldwyn made it anyway and reports from the previews say it's in fine taste.

NOW SAM GOLDWYN, Jr., is preparing to produce "Huckleberry Finn" and again NAACP, ever alert, has lodged a protest. Group claims that "Jim," the slave in the Mark Twain classic, is another slur on Negroes. This is the Junior Goldwyn's answer: "Twain tolled 20 years writing his protest against slavery in the U.S. His 'message' is still very much in my script." So — "Huck" gets the green-light this August on the banks of the Mississippi in Twain's beloved Hannibal, Mo.

The Children's Hour (Hollywood division): Francesa Hilton, Zsa Zsa Gabor's daughter, blasted her Momma's chauffeur for picking up herself and playmate Portland Mason two minutes late for an appointment. The kids were heading for a reducing session in a flossy Beverly Hills slimming salon called Fair Lady!

MAY BRITT DROVE off by herself for a week in the 120 degree temperature of Death Valley, also on a reducing mission. May's aim is to get herself sleek as a snake for the skirt she wears — slit from femur to footprint — in Fox's remake of "The Blue Angel."

She wants to be slimmer than Marlene Dietrich was in the original, and that shouldn't be too difficult.

A young actor quit dating a starlet after one outing with her. His explanation: "I discovered the starring spot in 'The Music Man' several years ago, before Bob Preston grabbed it and made Broadway history. But Dan's goof-off at that time is understandable in view of the fact that the plot was entirely different. Instead of being about an on-the-make salesman and his regeneration in a small town, it was about a spastic child who rose above his infirmity to play the triangle in a small-town band. Title was different too: 'The Triangle'!"

BENAY VENUTA is readying to repeat Ethel Merman's Broadway success this coming Thanksgiving — as the mother of Gypsy Rose Lee and June Havoc in the Chicago company of "Gypsy." Hollywood's Barbara Ruick is a hot contender for the role of daughter Gypsy . . . Incidentally, Miss Havoc's own biography, "Early Havoc," has done so well in the bookstores that Simon & Schuster have given her a fat advance check to write a sequel.

She writes me that she'll be moving back from Manhattan to her home in Malibu Friday (June 12) to spend the summer soul-searching herself. As for my copy of "Havoc," there's a hint of something violent in June's P.S.: "You betcha I'll autograph it for you—in blood!"

CHANNEL CHATTER — Lucille Ball has romanced Richard

Rodgers right out of the TV rights to an old Rodgers and Hart musical called "By Jupiter!" The original R&H male leads are being rewritten as gals for Lucy and her girl friend, Vivian Vance, and you'll be seeing the Westinghouse-Dumontians this fall.

Bad news for you Maverick fans: This season just past is Marion Hargrove's last as top writer on the cheeky tongue-in-cheek shows.

How d'ya like those network nabobs — they were in such a hurry getting the Voice of Firestone show off the air, after 31 nonstop years, they couldn't even let the singers on the last one finish singing "Auld Lang Syne" — clipped 'em right off between the chords, by cracky, with that closing commercial!

LOUIS PRIMA AND Keely Smith aren't doing much TV-wise these days but they're really got a surprise cooking over at the Dot Records diskery: a revival of that fine old standard, "I Don't Know Why I Love You Like I Do" — but sung backward!

I stood alongside Anna Kashfi Brando at the old Paramount lot on Sunset Boulevard (the same soundstage where Al Jolson shot "The Jazz Singer") and watched Sol Hurok and Matty Fox supervising the "taping" of four hours of the Bolshoi Ballet — this you'll be seeing too, in various-sized segments, on your TV sets this fall and winter.

SOL TOLD US, "We've had to turn back $200,000 in mail orders for the ballet's engagement in San Francisco. It's a complete sellout. This tour has proved the greatest artistic and financial success in history." Anna said, "At these prices the Russians should all be capitalists by now!"

It was interesting, watching the dancers. They are so "up" on their "lines," after all these years of dancing, that they've had to have only three retakes during the week-long shooting schedule. Anna and I watched one of the retakes. A ballerina had goofed. Choreographer Leonid Lavrovsky said something to her in Russian. The gal's next take was perfect. I asked for an interpretation of Lavrovsky's magic command. The interpreter said, "He told her if she didn't do it right next time he wouldn't let her go to Disneyland tomorrow!"

FOR THE BETWEEN — takes pleasure of the ballet boys and girls, Paramount has set up screenings on adjoining stages of "The Buccaneer" and "Houseboat" . . . Another stage has been set aside as a school for the Muscovites' daily dance coaching. The Paramount crew calls it The Little Red Schoolhouse.

Leaving the set, having had the great pleasure of watching them imprison on film the great Galina Ulanova's "Dying Swan," Anna gave me a scoop about herself: she will spend some of her settlement from Marlon Brando for ballet lessons with David Lichine.

What about her son, Christian Brando "He's only a year old, give him time," said Anna.

"Besides, he has already learned three words, on his own, without any teacher that I know of — and you should hear him 'bear,' 'bird' and 'fish,' for all the world like a Method actor!"

France and Britain . . . An Object Lesson

VIENNA — An objective report on Europe today most certainly would emphasize a major economic, political and strategic advance . . . mainly because of the resurgence of France under President DeGaulle.

The one major economic stumbling block at present is Britain, in part because of the failure of its socialist experiences. Britain fortunately is taking steps to convert to private ownership some of the major industries under nationalization.

FOR OVER 13 YEARS Britain has been testing public versus private ownership and the verdict unquestionably is that public ownership, or nationalism, has proved a colossal flop. Even the Labor party is reversing itself after the flourish and oratory in favor of nationalization.

Ironically, union labor which supported nationalization, has been hurt the most for the record of strikes, layoffs and troubles between workers and government management in the nationalized transport, utilities and coal mines has been the blackest in British labor history.

THE BRITISH LABOR party, between 1946-1951, set up the program that was to make Britain a socialist Utopia, by nationalizing the Bank of England, transport, utilities, steel, coal, electricity, cables, etc.

Despite a subsidy of over $1 billion dollars since 1946 to modernize the coal mines and an increased payroll of 12,000 added miners, coal production last year was less than in 1951. In addition to the $1 billion government subsidy the government had to make up a $75 million loss.

STEEL WAS nationalized for only a short period and then returned to private ownership when losses were apparent. Under present conversion to private ownership steel has earned annual profits and financed a substantial part of its $1.5 billion dollar expansion program out of its own resources.

The British Transport commission, which operates railroads and all public transport had a deficit of $425 millions under socialism. The British airlines, even with government subsidies and grants, lost over $150 million.

FRANCE, UNDER President DeGaulle, is helping to lead Europe out of the doldrums of economic and political stagnation which plagued it since the end of World War 2.

DeGaulle's realistic devaluation of the franc . . . a liberalized import policy . . . and a sensible, even though unpopular anti-inflationary budget, turned the tide. DeGaulle, the militarist, turned economist long enough to push economic reforms on France that could become an object lesson for European stability.

HE RAISED TAXES and forced the collection of taxes from heretofore privileged Frenchmen. He withdrew government subsidies, wage escalations and removed controls from food, wines and staples.

He did what would be the equivalent of the U.S. government withdrawing all subsidies from farmers, veterans, etc. Thus France overnight was debarred from the road to bankruptcy and political disaster to the most promising future in her modern turbulent existence.

CONTRARY TO popular belief, President DeGaulle did not overthrow the Fourth republic . . . it was lost long before he came into the picture. History somehow confirms the belief that rarely a revolution overthrows a government; usually a regime collapses of its own weakness and political corruption. The revolutionary movement simply moves in to sweep out the rut and the ruin.

Even though DeGaulle is no rubber stamp for NATO, he has strengthened by strengthening France at home and abroad.

Many of NATO's bases in Africa are secure because of DeGaulle, and the new spirit he inspired in the entire "French Empire."

OF THE "OVERSEAS territories" only Guinea in French West Africa accepted independence from France. All the other "territories" . . . twelve in Africa . . . Madagascar in the Indian ocean . . . French Guiana in South America . . . Saint Pierre and Miquelon . . . French West Indies, new Caledonia, French Polynesia . . . all voted by margins of almost 10-1 to stand with DeGaulle.

France, under DeGaulle, has proved a new stabilizing factor in Europe at a time when stability was long overdue to checkmate the political and economic subversion of Communism.

AT THE GENEVA Foreign Ministers conference the West's position has been greatly enhanced by a strong virile France.

This will also have its effect later on at the Summit . . . for it will be the first time since the Communist challenge plagued the Free World that France will be fulfilling her rightful role and her honor.

—John Morley

Quotes from the News

GENEVA — The International Commission of Jurists, in a report on the mass killing of Tibetans by Chinese Communists during the past nine years:

"In a sense, it reminds one of the brutal suppression in Hungary."

WASHINGTON — Rep. Dale Alford (D - Ark.), replying to charges by Little Rock newspaper Publisher John Wells that there were more votes than voters in the election which won him his congressional seat:

"I would for a moment desire to serve in this distinguished body unless I had been properly and honestly elected."

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Mickey Rooney, announcing that he and his fifth bride, whom he wed in secret last December, expected a baby in October:

"I hope this is the first of many children for us. We're not putting any limit on the number of kids we'll have. The more the merrier."

PHILADELPHIA — Juvenile Court Judge J. Sydney Hoffman, on the "sudden urge" murder of 3-year-old Becky Holt by 13-year-old Edward J. Cooney Jr.:

"This is horrible. It's a shame that two families can be completely destroyed by a thing like this. Somewhere along the line, we must have failed."

LOS ANGELES — Charles R. Sligh, Jr., executive vice president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, on labor unions:

"Unions are a potential political force. Our manufacturers, unfortunately, are not a political force today."

OMAHA, Neb.—Doomed mass slayer Charles Starkweather, on federal court rejection of his appeal for another hearing:

"Just tell 'em no comment."

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I am 28 and was recently married. I worked in an office and married my boss. Now he doesn't want me to work any more. We have no children. I don't care for cards and I'm no good at sports. My housework is done in two hours. I am healthy, ambitious and bored stiff. How can I lead a more useful life?

DEAR BORED: There are institutions for the aged, retarded children, the blind and veterans. There are young mothers who never see the bottom of the ironing basket and old folks who need help in tending their homes. Church groups, youth groups and Red Cross! If you want to be happy — do something for somebody who can't do for himself.

DEAR ABBY: What happens to a 21-year-old girl who dreams of kissing her boyfriend every night but when he asks her to kiss him, she refuses.

DEAR DIANE: NOTHING!

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who needs help. She is good looking and smart and very mixed up. (Three broken marriages at the age of 27!) She works around men and gets money from them to pay her psychiatrist. She has no morals whatsoever but there is something admirable about her. How can I convince her that she is doing wrong?

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: If your friend is seeing a psychiatrist, the last thing in the world she needs is more advice. When one is trying to regain his emotional stability through professional help, good friends do not interfere.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you could put this in headlines: WHEN YOUR HUSBAND ASKS FOR A DIVORCE TELL HIM TO GO JUMP IN THE LAKE. I made the biggest mistake of my life when, after 16 years, my husband told me he wanted a divorce because he fell in love with a younger woman. All I was thinking of was my pride. I didn't want to hold a man who didn't want me. Not even for our children. We settled everything quietly in a lawyer's office and are now legally divorced. I still love him, Abby, and word has reached me that his second marriage is not working out. Yes, I still have my pride but another woman has my husband. "FOOLISH PRIDE"

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a little four-year-old girl who is very naughty? When I put her to nap in the afternoon she says: "You aren't my Mommy and I don't have to mind you!" (I am her grandmother.) Then she gives me a lot of back-chat and makes a face at me. If I put her in bed she doesn't stay there. She tears up the room (it's my house) and all is bedlam. Spanking is useless as she is so defiant she will not cry. I can't refuse to keep her because if I did her mother (my daughter-in-law) would not have one day out a week. Is there a solution?

NANNY
DEAR NANNY: Quit being the goat! A mother who wants an afternoon out should train her child to be obedient, respectful and pleasant. Perhaps if you make it plain to your daughter-in-law that you refuse to look after her ill-behaved child, she'll get busy and do something about it.

City Attorney Reports

99-Year Indian Land Lease Bill Passage Said Possible

A chance that the Agua Caliente Indians will soon be able to write 99-year leases on Indian lands in Palm Springs looks very good today, is the report from City Attorney Jerry Bunker, who just returned from attending Congressional hearings in Washington, D. C.

Bunker, who was in Washington with Palm Springs Mayor Frank Bogert, reported that representatives of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the Agua Caliente Tribe, and the city have agreed on — and testified in behalf of — the 99-year leasing program.

HEARING ON THE Indian Leasing Act followed almost two full days of testimony on the Palm Springs Indian Equalization Bill, introduced early this year — for the second time — by Congressman D. S. Saund.

"That bill is not going so good," reported the city attorney. "In fact I would give it about a 50-50 chance to pass."

Bunker said, that trouble erupted at the hearings concerning the withdrawing of "several acres" of land from the local Indian Reserve, and the adding of it to the equalization program.

ALTHOUGH REPORTS were issued from Washington late last week that the difference of opinion concerned the Mineral Springs area, Bunker said that there was also a great deal of discussion about the withdrawing of other lands from the reserve status.

"The bureau also wanted to hack up some of the property on which the Catholic Church is located, and wanted a strip of land at the cemetery," he said.

Tribal representatives at the meeting, Council chairman Eileen Miguel and ex-chairman Vyola Olinger, would not agree to the further cut of Indian Reserve land and said the Tribe would also protest the action if the bureau pursued it.

REX LEE, ASSISTANT commissioner, Bureau of Indian Affairs, told the group that they could not reach equalization if they do not have this property.

But of even greater concern, at least to the people of Palm Springs, is the status of the Palm Springs Municipal Airport which, under the new bill, could be offered for sale to the City of Palm Springs.

Bunker reported that the Indians first wanted to open the sale of the airport to the highest bidder, but after a lengthy discussion, a new compromise was reached.

THIRTY BURGLARS RAID HOME, LIKE JEWELRY THERE TOO

Thirty burglars raided the home of a vacationing Villager this week, taking jewelry and whiskey worth $167.

Police said that thieves took a wrist watch, transistor radio, a money clip and one bottle each of Scotch and bourbon from the home of Mrs. Madge Holderman, 2106 Rim Road.

"THE INDIANS felt that they could get more for the land on which the airport is located than the amount it was appraised for in 1957-59," Bunker said, "and I had to agree with them."

Under the new proposition, the land will be re-appraised "as soon as or if the bill is passed" and the city will have one year in which to float a bond issue for the purchase at that figure. "However, now we also get the opportunity to purchase that part of Section 12 on which the northwest, southeast runway is located — a part that previously was not included," Bunker said.

SOME OF THE land included in the airport site has been allotted to Indians (three parcels), and this is excluded from the appraisal. All three pieces are located in the general vicinity of the airport administration building.

The present leases will hold on this particular land, but when they are up in 1965, it will then be up to the city to make a deal for the purchase of the land from the individual Indian allottees.

These three parcels total some 120 acres of the total of 653 acres on which the airstrip is located.

The possible appraised value of the airport, including the 120 acres of allotted land, has been set at $2,000,000, and according to the attorney, this amount should be just about the sale price.

Five in School District Win Summer Scholarships

Five administrators and faculty members from Palm Springs schools were today named as winners of summer school scholarships by Schools Supt. Dwight Twist.

The winners will attend training classes and workshops in the field of guidance and counseling, according to Mrs. Lois G. Nowlin, school district guidance coordinator.

PRINCIPAL HONORS were awarded to George Scholl, high school teacher, who won one of 30 scholarships offered in the state for a counselor training workshop

Los Angeles Judge to Be Moose Speaker

Moose Governor Ben Saba said that Judge Pfaff would discuss some of the facets of traffic safety for the Village.

Polaris Missile Sub Launched

GROTON Conn. (UPI) — The nation's first Polaris missile submarine, the George Washington, was launched today. President Eisenhower said it "will add greatly to our ability to preserve the peace."

The destructive potential of the new submarine is so great that the President, in a message read by Treasury Secretary Robert G. Anderson, said "it is my prayerful hope that this ship will be always ready but never used."
